

No noise headphones from QUANTUM

Quantum Hi Tech (QHMP) has launched Quantum Hi-Tech headphones QHM 880 priced at Rs 423 – it boasts a refined semi-classical design that is comfortable to wear for hours. The product is available at leading retail stores and e-commerce portals.

The QHM 880 headphones provide a comfortable fit to the user and has an adjustable inner headband that offers a more 'relaxing' experience – soft touch ear pads add to the experience.

Tagged by the company as a 'perfect combination of sound and style', QHM 880 headphones promise an unmatched listening experience. The core competence of this product is its crystal clear sound. The experience is possible thanks to its fine woven fabric that controls sound leakage. Making sure the sound is pure and unadulterated, its patented acoustic chamber design offers a fine listening experience. The low frequency sounds are well recognizable from mid and high frequency sounds which results in a fuller, thicker and complete audio experience.

The QHM 880 headphones come in two different models: one with Single Pin backed with 3.5mm jack and is packed with extra connector, thus making it a compatible device for all the audiophiles who love listening to their favorite beats on their mobile phones, MP3 Players and Tablets.

The second model is equipped with double pin jacks and is aided with inbuilt mic, thus allowing one to make voice calls effortlessly. Positioned at an optimum distance to pick up voice clearly, the mic enables you to speak hands free during your Skype calls. Enhancing your audio experience even more while listening to music, the microphone can be rotated to boom up the sound or out of the way to mute, thus making it a perfect companion for laptops and desk tops.
